COMPETITION WINNERS MEET THEIR RANGERS IDOLS

Young Rangers supporters in Lorn have had all the luck recently when a competition to draw their favourite player was won by Jamie Black from Oban. His picture of Chris Burke won the youngster a trip to Ibrox with his entire class.

Iain MacFarlane, aged 9, one of Jamie's classmates, has also been showing his artistic skills to Rangers with two pictures in recent match-day programmes: one of Libor Sionko and one of Charlie Adam. 'Sionko was my favourite, then it was Charlie Adam and now it's Nacho Novo' he explained.

The school trip to Glasgow took them to the Ibrox trophy room where, apart from the silverware, they were excited to see Ally McCoist's Golden Boot, won for scoring the most goals in a season for a European club. 'It was great, there were loads of trophies' said Jamie.

In addition to visiting the stadium and training grounds, the boys also got to meet one of their idols, Chris Burke. Iain said: 'We asked him if he had a girlfriend and he said 'yes'. We also asked if he could do 'round the world' (a football balancing trick) and he didn't know what it was so we had to show him'.

Burke left them after signing a note telling the boys to 'keep up the good work' and maybe both parties left the encounter a little wiser!
