

A table-turning Surprise

A WELL kent face around Oban had the tables turned on her after carrying out a morning surprise.

Nancy Black, as a director of Oban War and Peace Museum, had helped surprise Eric Southall as he strode through the doors at the old Oban Times building. The visitor from Midlands was the 300,00th visitor to walk through the doors of the museum and was greeted warmly by Nancy and co.

Later that day Nancy was surprised herself as her family, including her three sisters Isobel Black, Kirstin Terris and Catherine Davis, congregated at the family home to celebrate her 80th birthday.

An overwhelmed Nancy, who lives in Polvinster, said it was a lovely surprise to be with her family in Port Lea, Gallanach Road, particularly as she was born in the house.

Her niece Alison David even flew up from Bournemouth to wish her aunt a happy birthday.

Later that day Nancy was surprised herself as her family, including her three sisters Isobel Black, Kirstin Terris and Catherine Davis, congregated at the family home to celebrate her 80th birthday.

Nancy Black on her 80th outside Port Lea. t17nan02