

IT IS not very often four generations of the same family get together but one Barcaldine man helped do just that at a recent family wedding.

Robert Mcmillan, who will be 88-years-old next month, celebrated his grandson's wedding in Elgin recently and posed for pictures with three other generations of his family.

Robert joined his son, Archie, grandson Robert and great-grandson Max in a family photograph showing four generations of the Mcmillan clan.

This was the first time Robert had attended one of his grandchildren's weddings and family members said he thoroughly enjoyed the day.

Robert's daughter-in-law, Anne, said: 'He was so chuffed he made it to the wedding, four or five of his grandchildren are already married but this is the first one he has been able to attend.

Little Max is two-years-old and is the apple of his great-grandfather's eye. He is a great wee character, such a happy-go-lucky chap.'

Max is one of Robert's 10 great-grandchildren. Archie and Anne now live in Muir-of-Ord but Anne is from Mull and Archie was the first apprentice taken on at Crerar Partners architects in the 1960s.
