

Across the Sahara

DESPITE being thousands of miles away staring at sand dunes and camels in the Sahara Desert porridge was still on the breakfast menu for two Oban people.

Readers of The Oban Times will be well aware of Avril Lamont and Alex Milligan's Sahara Trek for Macmillan Cancer Relief.

The desert duo spent the latter part of last year fundraising through various car boot sales, race nights and charity lunches in Oban.

Between February 18 to 26 the pair, along with 60 other hardy souls, trekked 104 kilometers across the Sahara.

It was Alex's fifth trek and Avril's fourth but
