Karen Mitchell, left and husband Ted, right, sister and brother-in-law of one of the festival organisers Caroline Ronald, were roped in to run the merchandising side of the festival, along with Angie Smith, centre. They had to take shelter at the back of the main tent after the merchandising tent took off in a freak gust of wind. t31dmf36

Taking to the main stage on the Saturday evening were the Sensational Alex Harvey Band but the more local fesitval-goers knew they were on to a good thing when up-tempo ceilidh band Skerryvore, Tíree, took to the second stage and soon the smaller marquee was full to the brim with dancing folk.
